WOMEN VOTED TODAY IN CHICAGO

218,000 Women Are Registered—10,000 in House-to-
House Canvass for Votes

INTIMIDATING OF WOMEN BY ROUGHS CAUSES RIOT

Questionable Women Debarred from Voting by Election
Commissioner

CHICAGO, April 7.—Eyes of the world were on Chicago today when women began casting ballots in the first real test of suffrage strength in the largest equal suffrage city in the world. There are in round numbers 218,000 women whose names are on the registration books qualified to vote in the aldermanic contests today—nearly half as many as there are qualified male voters. With the exception of one or two wards whose political complexion is too well known, the women absolutely held the balance of power. By massing their votes on any particular candidate they can force his election to the city council. Seven women candidates for seats on the board of aldermen have injected the most novel feature of today's election, one of the most hotly contested in the city has ever known. At least two of these, Miss Marion H. Drake, combating the notorious "Bathhouse John" Coughlin in the first ward, and Miss Harriet E. Vittum, running on a non-partisan ticket in the seventeenth ward, are believed to have a fighting chance to win. They have the support of non-partisan and Progressive organizations and of practically every woman's club in the city.

Thirty-six wards are choosing aldermen today. The women's ballot is heavy and the Socialists are also active. Ten thousand women are making a house-to-house canvass getting out the female vote, using hundreds of automobiles.

The first trouble of the election occurred in the first ward, where Miss Margaret Debyne and Miss A. Davidson charged into a group of roughs who were trying to frighten women from the polling place. Word that a riot was in progress was telephoned to Election Commissioner Czarniecki, who at once scurried to the scene in an automobile and found a yelling, scuffling mob in the street. He summoned the police and restored order after several men had been clubbed. He then motored to the southern part ward where he issued orders to all polling places against the acceptance of ballots from women registering from disorderly houses or questionable hotels.

The anti-saloons element here is discouraged but elsewhere in the city are hopeful. The prohibitionists believe the women's vote will carry a majority of the counties for prohibition.

At noon it was estimated that 100,000 women and 160,000 men had voted. It is predicted the total will reach half a million before night.

TACOMA VOTED HEAVILY AT PRIMARIES TODAY

TACOMA, April 7.—Heavy balloting marked the municipal primaries today. There were twenty-five candidates for three council vacancies and eight mayoralty candidates. A second election is to be called two weeks hence if no majorities are reached today.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Huntington Beach last night they received word that the attorneys of the bond buyers in Los Angeles had approved the proceedings taken for the issue of $35,000 sewer bonds, and the trustees instructed S. M. Davis, the city attorney, to take the necessary legal steps toward having the actual work on the sewer system take place at once.

Street proceedings were ordered for paving to meet the county highway.

Emil Seidel, former Socialist mayor, and Mayor G. A. Bading, who led the primaries of last month, were the only two, in accordance with the non-partisan primary act, whose names appeared on the election ballots for mayor. In the primary balloting Seidel led with 21,054, and Bading was second with 20,000. Today's vote was expected to be unusually heavy.

OPEN HEARINGS ON FREE TOLLS REPEAL

To Begin Thursday and Extend Through Fifteen Days—
Plan Opposed

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The Senate adopted the Brandegee resolution, asking for all correspondence and telegrams of the state department and records bearing on the Hay-Pauncefote treaty under which, it is both asserted and denied, exemption of American shipping from Panama Canal tolls is justified.

15-DAY LIMIT SET ON
OPEN TOLLS HEARINGS

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Hearings before the Senate Oceanic Canals Committee of arguments and the taking of evidence for and against the repeal of the American shippings exemption from tolls clause in the Panama Canal Act will begin on Thursday and will be limited to fifteen days, according to an agreement reached today.

Senator Brandegee dissented, opposing any hearings at all, on the ground that the tolls proposition had already been discussed until it had been exhausted.

Discussion was lively, bordering on the acrimonious. Thorn, Thomas and Jones supported Brandegee in his stand against the hearings. O'Gorman, Bristow and Perkins wanted exhaustive hearings. Owen was absent, but wired his desire to avoid delay by discussion. Jones demanded that the Pacific Coast cities get a hearing on the repeal question.

ULSTER VOLUNTEERS FIRING IN SQUAD IN THEIR PRACTICE FOR WAR

The fourth battalion of the Tyrone regiment of the Ulster volunteer force went out on the Renfurly demesne, Dungannon, the other day to learn how to shoot in actual war. Some 2,000 men had a field day, and this photograph shows a squad firing at an imaginary enemy approaching through the woods in front. For weeks this sort of work has been going on openly in Ulster towns, and the government of Great Britain paid little attention to it. Now the statement is made that no fewer than 200,000 have joined the volunteer force, ready to fight the British army. Even since the trouble has become acute the members of the government have announced that they had no thought of issuing warrants for the arrest of Sir Edward Carson and other leaders, who organized this force.

SAY INSURANCE MONEY WITH KELLER

Warrant for Wife Desertion Issued for Man Whose House Burned

FATHER-IN-LAW SAYS HE IS LOSER

Owes Stevens, Who is Also on Note, $130 for Work on the House

Fred Keller is no longer in Santa Ana. There is a warrant out for his arrest on a charge of wife desertion, but wife desertion is not the only count his wife and father, Joseph Stevens of 902 Stafford street, would like to talk to him about.

Keller's new house on Logan street, burned down about a month ago. Stevens says that Keller drew $1000 insurance money out of the bank, and insurance burned two Spaniards were under suspicion as having had something to do with the conflagration, but they were later turned loose, nothing having developed to prove the suspicions.

When the fire occurred, Keller and his wife were away at a moving picture show. He owned a half-interest in a barber shop on East Fourth street near the depot. According to information secured by Stevens, Keller sold his interest for $250. He is supposed to have left Santa Ana last Tuesday, but it was not until Thursday that Stevens and his daughter, Mrs. Keller, came to the conclusion that Keller was away on a trip from which he has no intention of returning to his home and Santa Ana.

Stevens worked on Keller's new house, the one that burned down, and for that there was about $130 due him from his son-in-law. Stevens is now quite certain that he will never again see Keller. He is also quite certain that he will have to pay a $100 note at the Orange County Savings & Trust Co. on which he appears as security for Keller. Stevens says there are others who would like a settlement out of Keller, among them being Richards & Vian, meat market, where it needs about $34 to square accounts between the firm and Keller.

Plucks Primary Nomination
from Richmond Pearson
Hobson

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 7.—Returns at noon indicated that Oscar Underwood defeated Hobson for the U. S. Senate nomination by about 22,000 in yesterday's Democratic primaries. The returns cannot be completed before tomorrow. Hobson's friends admit his defeat. Comer is leading in the gubernatorial fight by a close margin. White defeated Rushton to succeed the late Senator Johnston, and Bankhead was chosen to succeed Hobson, and Miller to succeed Underwood in the lower house.

For Congress Clayton Denton, Blackburn, Burnett and Hefflin seemed assured of victory in their respective districts to succeed themselves. Antiercomb won without opposition. He was a candidate for congressman at large. The only present representative defeated was Taylor, who lost to Oscar Gray.

GEN. CARRANZA CONFIRMS EXPULSION OF SPANIARDS

JUAREZ, Mex., April 7.—General Carranza has confirmed the report that General Villa has ordered the expulsion of all Spaniards at Torreon. The exodus was to have begun yesterday, but it is reported that the switch yards are so congested with rolling stock brought in after the battle laden with supplies that the necessary trains cannot be made up right now.

Northern and Central Mexico are being thoroughly cleared of Spanish residents by the Constitutionalists. The latest news of wholesale expulsions of Spaniards was brought here by General Eulalio Gutierrez, commander of rebel forces in the state of San Luis Potosi.

CITY MAY BUY STREET RAILWAY SUPERIOR, WIS., April 7.—Voters of Superior today are deciding whether they will own and operate their own street railway. If the vote is registered to take over the street railway it will be the first municipally-owned system in the Middle West.

"DUMMY DIRECTORS" DENOUNCED BY FOSTER

Thinks Big Men of Companies
Should Be Close to Men
They Employ

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Federal legislation against "dummy directors" was under discussion by the national lawmakers today as a result of the testimony of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. yesterday before congressional subcommittee investigating conditions in the strike bound coal fields of Colorado. Chairman Foster of the probe committee, said:

"I hold that Rockefeller is a dummy in the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. I favor legislation against such a state of affairs. Something is needed to bring the big men of the companies close to the men they employ. What Congress can do I do not know but I believe something should be done."

It is thought likely that the committee's report will include anti-dummy director recommendations.

ROCKEFELLER DISCusses FURTHER RESPONSIBILITY

Rockefeller, after more than four hours of cross examination yesterday told the committee that he and three other directors represented his father's interest of about 40 per cent in the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, the central figure in the big coal strike.

That as a director he had fulfilled all his interest and responsibility in the company when he placed the officers, "competent and trusted men," in charge of the company's affairs.

That he knew nothing of conditions in the strike district except from reports of officers of the company.

That the strike had become a fight for the "principles" of freedom of labor and that he and his associates would rather that the present violence continue "and that they lose all their millions invested in the coal fields, than that American workmen should be deprived of the right under the constitution to work for whom they pleased."

TWO CANDIDATES OUT TO SUCCEED MISSION JUSTICE

There are two residents of San Juan Capistrano who want the appointment as justice of the peace to succeed John Landell, who has resigned and moved to San Diego. Both men have petitions in circulation, and will present them to the Board of Supervisors tomorrow.

When the ship docks none will be permitted to land until the disappearance of jewels worth $10,000 belonging to Mrs. Margaret H. Hunt has been investigated. Captain Worden sent a wireless as to the jewels' disappearance and the steamship company immediately enlisted the police and private detectives to meet the ship which is due to dock here at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

'06 COMPANY L MEN RECALL EVENTS AT THE 'FRISCO FIRE

20 Men Drill at Armory and Later Attend Banquet at Taylor's

"Company, 'tention!"
Captain Vestal gave the command. Each man straightened up, eyes to front, shoulders back. It was like old times for the twenty men of Company L that went to the San Francisco earthquake and fire in 1906.

They assembled at the Armory at about 8 o'clock last night. "Cap" Vestal soon found, after roll call, that not a man had forgotten how to drill in the eight years that have passed since the "bunch" went to 'Frisco.

Besides Captain Vestal those who answered roll call were Lieutenant Charles E. Waffle, First Sergeant Frank L. Worden, Sergeants W. A. Collins, Frank Eckman, Ike Fields; Corporals W. W. Wilson, Ernest Kellogg, F. L. Wilson; Artificer Elmer Thompson; Musician Charles Mitchell; Privates William Diers, Howard Turner, O. A. Cozad, Ray Copeland, Fred Zorman, George Slocum, J. L. McEbride (now captain of Company L), Arthur Elliott, John Coleman, S. H. Finley, who was colonel of the Seventh Regiment in 1906, attended the meeting later in the evening.

After a half hour of good, hard drilling by Captain Vestal and Lieutenant Waffle the company repaired to Taylor's for dinner. All during the banquet the men kept up a running fire of reminiscences. But it was not until after "smokes" had been passed around that the '06 stories became really sparkling. Not until then did the old quartette unlimber to its fullest tune.

Eyes became misty as, one by one, the story tellers recalled once more the exciting days in April, 1906, when the company was encamped at Oakland. Hearts thrilled once more as they did when Company L caught its first glimpse of the black pall that shrouded the Golden Gate city.

"Billy" Diers related the story of how the company unpacked at the Oakland mole, late one evening, and then, in heavy marching order marched to Lincoln Park, in Oakland. Every trooper was deathly tired. It was much too late to pitch camp so the boys "flopped" on the grass in the park and went to sleep in short order.

Along about two or three o'clock in the morning some of the men awoke. It was raining. Most of those whom the rain had aroused were so "gone" that they merely grunted, rolled over and went to sleep again. One or two of the more alert, fearing the consequences that might result if the men finished their night's slumber in their soaked clothes, proceeded to prod the sleepers in the ribs. Several of the men rebelled. They preferred to sleep in the downpour rather than get up just at that time. One of the most stubborn was Ray Copeland. He was awakened once but instead of getting up he mumbled something incoherently and kept on "pounding his ear."

Finally the company was sent over to the market, about two blocks distant. A shed there at least kept the men out of the rain but sleep was impossible on account of the unfriendliness of the flooring of the shed, which was of cement. The next morning the boys had to resume their duties in their wet clothes as they had no changes. According to all medical rules each man should have developed all sorts of pulmonary and other diseases. But they didn't. To a man they remained sound and healthy. The consensus of opinion among the men, even to this day, is that the boys' imperviousness to colds, etc., was due to a "life-saver" in a glass container that was passed around at about four in the morning.

A great many of the men who went to the fire in 1906 are out of Santa Ana now. For this reason and because many addresses are unknown the attendance at last night's reunion was not as large as it might have been.

It was unanimously decided to hold the meetings annually. A committee consisting of Worden, Kellogg and Slocum was appointed to take charge of next year's reunion, which will be held during the latter part of April.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The demand for butter yesterday morning was one of the most active in months and forced the price at close to 25 cents, while sales of creamery extra during trading went over 26 cents. The demand is occasioned not only by heavy local consumption, but also by the fact that as much butter as possible is being placed in storage. Above 25 cents, dealers claim that the price on storage stock is prohibitive and that quotations will have to drop again in order to continue the call for this kind of butter. Receipts were 53,920 pounds. The price established in San Francisco for the first day of the week was 23 cents.

The quotation on eggs in the northern city stands at 20¢, while here it is 22¢. The call for eggs was very good, and if anything, the market was more firm than at the close on Saturday. Petaluma eggs continue to arrive at the average of 500 cases a day and the bulk of these are going into storage. Receipts of locals were 871 cases yesterday.

Gathering of Methodists
Last Evening

(By Staff Correspondent.)
ORANGE, April 7.—Bishop Edwin H. Hughes of Los Angeles, occupied the pulpit at the First Methodist church last evening at a meeting called to raise funds for the purchase of a new church site. He proved one of the most inspiring speakers that has appeared before a local audience for some time.

An interesting meeting of Ruby Rebekah lodge was held at the Odd Fellows Hall last evening. Mrs. Sarah Flowers of Long Beach, district deputy president for the local district, was among those in attendance. One new member was admitted to the lodge by transfer. Following the business session the evening was taken up with social pleasure and light refreshments were served.

WAR Has Been Declared!

The First Gun Was Fired April 1

when two of our credit grocery store proprietors decided that the cash system was the only system, and all they had to do was to tell their customers it would be cash after April 1st, 1914, and how they would save them 15 to 30 per cent. The next thing was to get one of Miles' advertisements and see how much to charge on a cash basis. Then another old time cash basket free delivery man decided he would have to take off his free delivery system in order to meet all comers, as things were liable to get pretty warm before the summer was over, and he put on a ten days sale, the like of which he never did before and he figured right down just as low as Miles sells every day. Then comes the man who says he is the original Cash Grocer and ought to have all the credit for putting down the prices and holding them down. But he don't say who it is that has been holding him down. You know one cash grocer in a town don't cut so much ice, he just gets under the credit stores enough to get his share of the business. It's when the second cash man gets in and wants his share, then you get the real cash prices and down they go to the bottom. Now the two new cash grocers are just going to let Miles make the prices and do the advertising and they will follow along and match and in that way will learn the cash system. Now people like to deal where they get the prices at first hand. Consequently they go to Miles. Quality guaranteed.

THE EXECUTOR

The Management

An individual who has consented to be named as executor or trustee in a will, may, when the time comes for probating the will, be unable or unwilling to act because of changed personal or business circumstances, thereby delaying the administration of the estate and causing the heirs or beneficiaries the annoyance of appointing another person to act, with the possibility that the substitute may be one who would not have been acceptable to the testator.

This old established company is not subject to influences of this character and would accept the appointment at the proper time.

BIG CENTURY PLANT BLOOMS

Planted on the Nichols Property in 1892 Now Flowers First Time

GARDEN GROVE, April 6.—A large century plant on the ranch belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Jess Nichols is blossoming. It was planted by Mr. Nichols in 1892 when he first located here. The plant is of the variegated variety and is a rare sight. It is worth while to visit the ranch, one-half mile north and two miles east of Garden Grove, and see the plant that only blooms once in a life time.

J. W. Crill is putting down a 17-inch well on his ranch northeast of town. He will install a Layne & Bowler pump and use electric power to raise the water to irrigate his fine ranch.

H. G. Dennis has sold his five-acre ranch to M. M. Mounts of Orange, who will take possession at once. Mr. Mounts will set out orange trees already purchased by Mr. Dennis.

H. E. Dungan has purchased the A. O. Butler place.

The new house of Miss Crutchfield and Mrs. Reed is under way on Third street.

The new home of Mr. McLeod will be completed about June 1.

Geo. J. Reffren, contractor of Stanton, has the contract for a new house to be built for H. C. Powell on Ocean avenue, one mile east of town. The house will have eight rooms and all modern conveniences. A new 10-inch well was finished last week on this place.

Miss Carrie Kimball and Mrs. Sarah Bill entertained Mrs. Fong and Miss Randall of Santa Ana on Friday.

A social party was held at the home of Chas. Swall last Friday evening. About fourteen young people were present and an enjoyable time was had. Ice cream was served.

At the "get-together banquet" which was held last Friday evening at the Methodist church a very large crowd was present. A splendid banquet was served by the ladies in the league room, after which a program was given. Rev. Inwood and wife were the guests of honor. Mr. Inwood is the president of the San Diego district. A most enjoyable time was had by all.

Mrs. Sarah Mills is quite ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. L. Parks.

Chas. Swall was re-elected for trustee in the Garden Grove school district.

Mr. and Mrs. Sawin, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Russell for some time, returned to their home in South-boro, Mass., last week.

Miss Helen Jackson went to Los Angeles today to visit with relatives during this vacation week.

Mr. Doty of Los Angeles visited with his daughter, Mrs. Henry Russell, yesterday.

Miss Gerna Nimmo is spending this week with Mrs. Olive Thomson in the Santiago canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lamb spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Lamb.

C. N. Magill and daughter have gone on a trip to Colorado to visit relatives and friends. They will be gone some time.

J. Allen Knapp has returned from his business trip to Chicago.

Word was received last Wednesday night by N. Carmichael of the sudden death at Lamoin, Iowa, of James Carmichael, father of Albert Carmichael. He was 80 years old.

Mrs. D. A. Anderson is spending a few days with friends in Los Angeles.

A large number of Garden Grove people will go to Orange tonight to attend the lecture by Bishop Hughes at the Methodist church.

Mrs. King of North Dakota, daughter of Mrs. Hewes, and a sister of Mrs. Shields, has moved into the Coffey house.

Mr. Chilson, who has bought three acres of Harry Lee, has moved into the house of Mrs. Sarah K. Bill until his house can be built.

Mrs. H. C. Powell was called away on Thursday to Bishop on account of the serious illness of her sister.

Mrs. K. G. Stark spent several days last week with friends in San Bernardino.

A number of Garden Grove people went up to Deep Creek in the San Bernardino mountains last week and enjoyed a beautiful trout-fishing trip. The first machines which went over the road traveled through 12 miles of snow from two to six inches deep—a beautiful sight. The first machine over a large part of the road was that of Marshall Ingram, of Anaheim, and made the first track through the snow. A large number of trout were caught.

AMUSEMENTS

See Them, It, All at Clune's

As usual there is enough variety in this week's program at Clune's Santa Ana theater to suit everybody's taste, both as regards vaudeville numbers and motion pictures.

Of the vaudeville numbers, "Her-mann the Great," the celebrated comedy magician, was perhaps the feature number, although the comedy quartette singers ran him a close second. These singers are always popular, their witty songs and sayings completely capturing the audience.

Diamond and Beatrice in a musical classic pleased everybody with splendidly rendered numbers on their various uncommon instruments.

In the motion picture program the first series in three parts of that eagerly looked for "Perils of Pauline" was shown. This series promises to eclipse any previous efforts of the famous Pathe players. The picture leads out interestingly and at once grips the beholders' attention. Every-

The Girl Behind the Counter

The gayest musical comedy on the road will visit this city at the Grand Opera House for a single night's engagement, April 9, when "The Girl Behind the Counter" comes to town.

Not a dull second interferes with the hilarity of the entertainment from the time that the gay chorus sings the opening number until the finale to the second act sends the audience home humming.

The Gaiety Theater management, which presents "The Girl Behind the Counter," has been responsible for many successes but nothing has achieved the popularity that goes out to the present presentation and the splendid cast of principals is largely responsible for this happy state of affairs.

There isn't a dullard in the company nor a single member of the principals who had not achieved his or her national reputation.

And there is the chorus and the "pony ballet," and the marvelous costumery and production.

THE POPULAR ATTITUDE TOWARD EASTER

When a writer tries to sell the magazine editors an Easter article on "Immortality" he is apt to fare but ill. But if he can put up a good snappy story about Easter eggs, rabbits, or gowns, he will find a ready market. Such considerations, particularly the Easter clothes display, lead the pessimists to say the world is losing spiritual earnestness.

Yet the people that went before had their faults. The Easter eggs and rabbits that you see in the stores are the flotsam and jetsam of old pagan customs. They were originally symbols of fertility. The European peasant connected them with the revival of spring and the planting of the seed. As his children come over to till our farms and build our railroads, they bring these old symbols. The ancestors across the water prayed on Easter day quite as much for fat oxen and full wheat as for the life everlasting.

The old Easter in Europe was pretty much of a frolic. It was the duty of the clergy to evoke the "Easter smile." If they couldn't do it from spiritual enthusiasm, they often told humorous stories from the pulpit. After church, the exercises were fleshly, often to the point of riotous wasal.

Today the prophet speaks with fervor his message of man's unutterable longing and God's triumphant mission. The headgear of the women may be a riotous and distracting garden of vanity. Yet the silence of the House of God suggests that the message of the pulpit is not passed unheard. The world is growing, after all.

It is supposed to take some resolution for the woman with the shabby hat to venture out Easter. Still, does anyone stay at home for that reason? The girl with last year's style gets some suggestions that help in home millinery. Perhaps it is the fashion parade that lures her to church. Drawn by the Easter hat, she may remain to pray.

MEXICO'S "ARMIES"

The irritation felt in this country over the sordid squabble in Mexico, so upsetting to business relations on this side of the line, does not lend itself to a perception of the humor of the situation. But the day will come when the Mexican revolution will be seen from its more grotesque points of view.

The attention of our whole nation has been concentrated for some weeks on the "armies" concentrating at Torreon. Neither one of the forces would look impressive near to. In the days of ex-President Diaz, the forces at his command were on paper a fine organization. Actually he could not have put more than 12,000 soldiers in the field.

In the fighting in the city of Mexico in the last revolution, the rebels shot at the palace, and the government forces fired at the citadel. A constant fusillade was kept up for days. Afterward neither buildings showed much effect. Their occupants were scarcely touched. Meanwhile the private homes of the neighborhood were riddled. Many innocent country people, who had driven in their pathetic little carts to sell flowers or vegetables, were slaughtered.

The trouble usually has not been lack of modern equipment. And many of the officers of both federals and constitutionalists have had good military training. But in their hap-hazard, fiery way, they never bother about such minor details as target practice.

It is a common experience for some inoffensive countryman to be impressed into the service of one army, without the slightest knowledge of military life. At the first opportunity he will desert, only perhaps to be seized and clothed with the uniform of the opposing faction.

At close quarters the Mexican soldiers show themselves brave, and fight with reckless and deadly desperation. But they aim their guns from ten to thirty feet too high even at close range, and are dangerous mostly to the innocent by-standers.

DEMOCRATIC FAILURE

One of the Democratic administration's own subordinates makes an official report that the cost of living has never been as high as during the last year. The Industrial Relations committee, created by the Democrats, reports an unusual and serious condition of unemployment the country over.

Washington politicians deplore the issuance of such public reports, which tend to smash all the assurances that the new tariff act would work a great good. President Wilson is an object of commiseration because he is afflicted with such thoughtless subordinates. Immigration Commissioner Caminetti, however, is regarded as the prize affliction in this line, because of his heedless outburst regarding Asiatic exclusion before a Congressional committee at a most inopportune time for a diplomatic handling of the problem.

"SMART SET" POKER PARTY WAS RAIDED IN LOS ANGELES

LOS ANGELES, April 7.—The police raided an alleged "strip" poker party in the fashionable West End early today, taking into custody three girls and three youths in various stages of undress. The girls gave their names as Leona Park, 18, Alma Taylor, 17, Peggy Brown, 19. They were booked at the central station as delinquents, and were later released on their own recognizance. The men were not booked. The arresting officers said they watched the game through a window and soon becoming assured that prompt action was needed, they entered the room, when, they say, all players would have been "broke" if they lost another hand. The girls are reported as well-known to the young society set.

GRAND JURY LOOKS INTO WOMAN'S DEATH

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 7.—Additional facts regarding the death of Mrs. Laura Wilder Simpson, wife of Lawrence Simpson, wealthy young planter, were to be placed before the special grand jury today by Prosecutor John R. Allen. Mrs. Simpson was found in her home several weeks ago by her husband, with a bullet hole in her temple. It was announced she had been handling a revolver and met her death accidentally. A coroner's jury rendered the peculiar verdict that the woman's death "was not accidental." The husband asked for a grand jury investigation.

SNAPSHOTS OF PROGRESS ON GREAT WORLD'S EXPOSITION

Imitations of three of the most famous and beautiful Italian marbles used for generations in obtaining decorative effects and representing the theme of human ingenuity in perfecting artificial stone will be seen at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in 1915. The marbles which are now being imitated to add to the distinctiveness and beauty of the exposition decorative scheme are Travertine, Sienna, and what is known as Verde Antique. Travertine marble is found in the bed and along the shores of the river Tiber, and is believed to be of a volcanic origin. Its imitation has been perfected by Paul E. Deniville, an expert in the imitation of various stones. The shade of the marble, an old ivory, is the key color of the exposition. Imitations of the other marbles, Sienna and Verde Antique, also have been perfected by Deniville and are being prepared for the exposition under his direction. The Sienna, of a reddish color streaked with yellow and black, has been used in columns along the main entrance of the Palace of Machinery. Verde Antique will be used for urns and other ornaments in several of the interior courts.

Construction of a decorative parapet along the shore line of the Esplanade or Marina, the beautiful promenade skirting the water's edge at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition grounds at San Francisco, has begun. The parapet will serve the double purpose of a bulkhead and a decorative feature. It will be 3000 feet long and three feet high, and will be ornamented with pedestals and brilliantly illuminated. The timbers of the structure, which will cost $6000, will be made to resemble Travertine marble.

The New Jersey pavilion at the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco will be in the shape of a letter "H" with a frontage of 215 feet and a width of 197 feet. The southern court will be decorated with a flower garden and a liberty pole. In the northern court will be a relief map, illustrating the canal system of New Jersey.

The gatekeepers of the Panama-Pacific Exposition are in a quandary over the possibility of an aerial stunt. Aviators flying across San Francisco bay enter the grounds at will.

The erection of the New York state pavilion at the Panama-Pacific Exposition grounds at San Francisco is progressing. It is expected that all of the carpenter work will be completed in two months.

How the silk worm spins its cocoon and the American manufacturer weaves the thread into fabric which is afterward molded into gowns for American women, will be fully shown in an exhibit in the Palace of Manufactures at the Panama-Pacific Exposition and the finished product will be worn by scores of beautiful models on a promenade in the Palace. The entire exhibit will be made up of the various industries in the manufacture of the finished product, but will be combined so that to the public it will appear as one exhibit arranged in sequential order. First will be shown the worms in their cocoons, actually spinning the cocoons and the method of killing them so that they will not break a strand. In the next booth workers will catch up the filaments of the cocoon on a fine brush and wind them through an eyelet into reels of continuous thread from 800 to 1000 yards in length. These skeins will then be passed along to the next booth in which the weavers make the silk fabric, and the cloth will be shown in its various stages of development. The finished product will be given to a department of America's modistes, who will measure, cut and fit it upon young women in full sight of the public. At the end of the exhibit will be a long promenade, the floor of which will be covered with expensive carpets and the walls of tapestry with hangings of rare velvet.

Nifty suits for your small boy, made from fabrics that are selected for their wearing and washing qualities. Others priced up to $3.00.

Robert Lansing Succeeds John Bassett Moore

President Wilson has chosen a Washington man to succeed John Bassett Moore, counselor to the State Department, who was said to be one of the most valuable officials the State Department has ever known. He has selected Robert Lansing of Washington, D. C., a son-in-law of the former secretary of state, John B. Foster. Mr. Foster was considered one of the first diplomats in the history of the United States.

Mr. Lansing is about fifty years of age and is a graduate of Amherst College.

TACT OF EUGENIE.

Diplomacy of the French Empress on a Question of Dress.

A curious instance of the diplomatic methods of the ex-Empress Eugenie is worth recalling.

When Queen Victoria, Prince Albert and the princess royal were about to visit Napoleon III, and the Empress Eugenie it was feared at the French court that the young princess royal would not be dressed in a style that would harmonize with French taste. The question was how to beguile her royal parents into dressing the child in a suitable manner.

In this difficulty the empress had a really brilliant idea. The height and other measurements of the princess royal were obtained and a doll of exactly the same size procured. The doll was provided with a large and exquisitely finished tulle dress, and it was then dispatched to Buckingham palace as an imperial gift to the princess.

The expected happened. Queen Victoria, enchanted with the doll's wardrobe, transferred most of the outer garments to her daughter for use during their visit to the emperor and empress. The result was that the princess appeared at her best, and everybody was pleased.—London Spectator.

Criminals of Manila.

"Criminals are practically unknown in Manila," observed an official of that city. "I mean by this that there is no criminal class in the islands, as there is in European countries and in the United States. The yeggman, the professional pickpocket and sneak thief do not exist there. Of course we have to deal with high crimes, and there are a considerable number of murders. Doubtless this is due to the mercurial temperament of the people. The Filipinos are much like the Spaniards. They are easily angered and commit murder in a moment of passion. The spirit of revenge also is pronounced among the Filipinos. I have found that most of the murders committed are traceable to that old motive—the eternal triangle. I don't recall any murders in the Philippines that were committed with guns. The weapon ordinarily used is the knife or bolo."—Washington Post.

Woman's Influence.

It is at the foot of woman we lay the laurels that without her smile would never have been gained. It is her image that strings the lyre of the poet, that animates the voice in the blaze of eloquent faction and guides the brain in the august toils of stately counsel. Whatever may be the lot of man, however unfortunate, however oppressed, if he only love and be loved, he must strike a balance in favor of existence, for love can illumine the dark roof of poverty and lighten the fetters of the slave.—Disraeli.

Ringless Weddings.

Soothing the Bride.

"I told Maud that Jack was simply crazy to marry her, and she took offense." "Why was that?" "Don't know, unless it was that when I said it they had just been married."—Boston Transcript.

Whips at Weddings.

At Swedish weddings among the middle and lower classes the bridegroom carries a whip. This is an emblem of his authority in the domestic circle.

If people censure you unjustly try to feel as charitable toward them as you would if they praised you too highly.

ANNUAL LUNCHEON

Economics Section Enjoyed Delightful Function at Home of Mrs. French

The annual luncheon of Household Economics, Section Two, Elbell Club, held yesterday at the home of the president, Mrs. C. E. French, marked the best meeting of the year. The elaborate luncheon, served at 1 o'clock, in two courses, was prettily appointed, and the flowers used in decoration were exquisite pink roses massed in a center bouquet.

Those for whom covers were laid at this pretty luncheon were: Mesdames W. D. Baker, E. B. Burns, C. W. Burns, J. W. Blee, A. Clayton, C. F. Crose, A. L. Dearing, M. S. Emerson, C. E. French, J. E. Gowen, James Harrison, C. E. Lammie, J. E. Liebig, J. E. Paul, W. S. Peck, J. G. Cook, Louise Scarborough, A. J. Thompson; Miss Mary Talbot, Miss Waucho, club members; Mrs. E. M. Nealley, Elbell curator; Mrs. A. S. Holbrook; Miss Lelia Blee of Belfast, Maine, a house guest at the J. W. Blee home; Miss Carrie Weyman, Mrs. Davis Ferguson of Los Angeles, who is being entertained at the French home, all guests of the club.

Following the luncheon was a brief business, after which an excellent paper on Paraguay was read by Mrs. James Harrison. Then came a paper of unusual interest, "Opportunities of South America," given by Mrs. J. E. Gowen. Mrs. Scarborough contributed a reading, "The Doom of Claudius and Cynthia," responding to an encore with "At Converting the Jew." During the afternoon Mrs. Davis Ferguson of Los Angeles, visiting at the French home, rendered several vocal and instrumental numbers.

Entertained Parents

Miss Pearl Thompson of the Dragon was hostess last evening for a small party of friends invited to meet her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Elkin of San Diego, who have been visiting here for a week past and who will remain here for a week or so longer. Last evening's affair was given at the home of Mrs. W. C. Clark, with whom the hostess resides.

The evening was delightfully spent in conversation and music and was agreeably closed by the serving of delicious refreshments. Easter emblems were used in the service, the centerpiece being a dignified rabbit with tiny bunnies and chickens clustered about it. The yellow scheme used and the Easter motif were seen in the place cards, which were mounted with fluffy yellow chickens. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Kuhl and Miss Emma Kuhl, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Adams, Miss Eva Adams and George Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Elgin and the hostess.

Accepts Fine Position

J. Wiley Harris, who was recently appointed to a position in the income tax department of the internal revenue service, has resigned the position to accept a desk in the escrow department of the Title Guarantee and Trust Company of Los Angeles. Both the Title company and Mr. Harris are to be congratulated on this change, as the company secured the services of a man of years training for the particular line of work which will be required of him, and who is considered an expert in his line; and the new position is far more congenial and with a much better future for Mr. Harris. The Title Guarantee and Trust Company is one of the largest concerns of the kind in the state.

THE OPAL SEA

(Suggested by a painting entitled "Serenity," by Frank W. Uprien.)
Wide opal sea! Oh, radiant sea!
Thou mirror of the sunset skies!

Thy vast expanse of mystery
My ever-longing quest defines
Beyond the pearly mists hung low

Lie glories still undreamed of
By man,
Of treasure in thy depths we know.

Yet unrevealed in God's great plan.

Deep opal sea! calm sunset sea,
Thy mellowing tints of even-tide

But deepen thy great mystery
That everneath thy waves abide.

Yon darkling shadows in the hills,
Betwixt me and the farther reach,

Are lures portending greater thrills,
Defying every mode of speech.

Great opal sea; thou mighty sea!
Thy magnitude and awful power

O'erwhelms my soul and purgeth me
Of every boasting thought this hour.

Low murmurs of thy lazy surf,
With opal fires beneath the foam.

Are calling me away from earth,
As o'er thy wastes my fancies roam.

Grand opal sea! mist-covered sea,
The glinting rays that gild thy crest

Reveal a golden path to me
To lead my spirit o'er thy breast.

On, ever toward that flying goal
Which man pursues from early youth.

The yearning, longing of the soul
To know the mysteries of truth.

—Lou P. Hickox.

McCARTHY-KEECH WEDDING

Beautiful and Impressive Was Ceremony at Home of the Bride's Parents

The wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kech at 8 o'clock last night was in every way just what the many friends of the charming bride, Miss Helen, the eldest daughter of the house, would have expected it to be: delightfully informal, beautifully artistic and of elegant simplicity. The entire house was fragrant with roses, immense pink, half-opened roses in banks of green, with an archway from which a huge basket of the same beautiful buds was suspended for the impressive ring ceremony.

Mrs. D. Eymann Huff played Beethoven's "Minuet in G," then Mendelssohn's wedding march, to the strains of which entered the bridal procession, a symphony in itself. The Rev. J. A. Stevenson, officiating clergyman, led the march, with Mr. Kellogg Barrows McCarthy, the fortunate bridegroom, and Mr. Guy Goodwin, his best man, following. Then came the dear little sister and brother of the bride, carrying white ribbon strings. Next was the maid of honor, Miss Cara Kech, sister of the bride, dressed in pink lace and carrying pink roses, and finally on the arm of her father, came the handsome bride, in white brocaded silk crepe, pearl-trimmed, with long veil caught with white flowers. She carried a bouquet of the same beautiful wild flowers gathered by herself in her long loved Santiago canyon. Later Miss Minnie Gardner and Miss Cara Kech together caught the pretty bouquet, when thrown for good luck.

Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy will reside in Santa Barbara, where Miss Kech was the head of the art and music departments in the city schools, and where Mr. McCarthy is engaged in business.

Aside from the family, those present were: Mrs. McCarthy and Miss Cynthia McCarthy, El Paso; Mrs. E. F. Cahin, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Templeton, Palo Alto; Mrs. Gaydon Gage and Miss Rosa Gage, Riverside; Miss Ora Harris and Miss Bessie Swartz, Santa Barbara; Messrs. Guy Goodwin and P. Jones, Santa Maria; Mrs. Cox, Dr. Lester Cox, Miss Alice Lynch, Hollywood; Miss Cara Kech, Santa Rosa; Mr. C. Templeton, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan H. Moore, Miss Helen and Miss Cynthia Moore, Louise Ehrman, H. H. Curran, Los Angeles; Miss Alma Burton and Earl Hutchinson, Orange; Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Stevenson, Miss Helen Benius, Miss Pauline Parsons, Miss Lois Tedford, Miss Irene Beatty, Miss Ethel Gardner, Miss Minnie Gardner, Mrs. D. Eymann Huff, Santa Ana.

"Y's" Begin Year's Work

The new year's work of the "Y's" begins with the April meeting, therefore the meeting held last night marked the beginning of a year's well-planned program.

The home of Miss Flossie Zerman was a delightful place in which to hold such a meeting, and cheerful and attractive as it always is, it was made especially inviting last night for the welcome to one of the largest concourses of young people yet in attendance at these meetings.

The program was in charge of the executive members of the society, and the department work of the W.C.T.U. was briefly explained.

A number of the "California Dry" campaign songs were sung. Then followed a social hour during which amusing games provided by the entertainment committee were indulged in. The serving of fruitade and wafers followed the evening's program.

Travellers Elected

Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner was hostess yesterday afternoon for Elbell Travel Club Section One. The lovely home was decorated with pink Maman Cochet roses and wild flowers, and fifteen ladies enjoyed the meeting.

The present officers were re-elected as follows: Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner, president; Mrs. E. B. Smith, vice president; Mrs. Terry Stephenson, secretary and treasurer.

Delicious refreshments were served after the business session of the club.

OPPORTUNITY GIVEN TO HEAR JEFFREY

An opportunity presents itself to the students in the department of agriculture of the Santa Ana High School, of which many will be glad to avail themselves. J. W. Jeffrey, the secretary of the California Cured Fruit Exchange, will address the apricot growers at 3 o'clock next Saturday. He has for many years been a strong advocate of co-operation, and in his present position is helping to work out that feature of agricultural science which deals with the marketing of the farmers' product. How their problem of co-operative marketing presents itself in the cold business world, and not in the active imagination of some theorist, will be shown by him. How it has been possible in the course of a single year to organize so strong a selling agency for the organized dried fruit growers, how the movement is spreading over the state, how twenty-two associations work together in harmony, "one for all and all for each," will be told in his graphic style. He is perfectly familiar with the horticultural problems of the state, having been state horticultural commissioner.

Since this is vacation week, and the invitation to attend Mr. Jeffrey's address cannot be given out in the classroom it is herewith extended through the press.

What is the California Cured Fruit Exchange? Come and find out.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Santa Ana Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak.

Backache and other kidney ills may follow.

Help the kidneys do their work. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy.

Santa Ana people endorse their worth.

R. J. Haines, Fowler House, 206 Ross St., Santa Ana, Cal., says: "I had pains through my back and sides. It was hard for me to straighten after stooping. The action of my kidneys was irregular. When I used Doan's Kidney Pills they made my kidneys normal and stopped the pains. I found that Doan's Kidney Pills are the best kidney remedy to be had."

"When Your Back Is Lame—Remember the Name." Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Haines had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c. all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

Father of Continuous Vaudeville is Dead

B. F. Keith, famous in vaudeville for more than thirty years, and the originator of continuous vaudeville, has just died. Theatrical men say that he did more for the entertainment of the millions who could not pay for high priced seats in theaters than any one else. His death was caused by heart disease while in Florida for his health.

The idea of the "continuous performance" had been revolving in Mr. Keith's mind for some time and in 1885 he decided to try it out. This idea was suggested by P. T. Barnum's morning, afternoon and evening exhibitions and also from Bunnell's Museum. At 10 o'clock on the morning of July 5, 1885, Mr. Keith opened a performance at the Gaiety Theater in Boston which lasted practically continuously until 11 p. m. The venture proved so successful that the next year he acquired the Bijou Theater in Boston and within a few years branched out in Philadelphia, Cleveland, Providence and other cities.

It will go right to the hair roots, nourish them, and stimulate the hair to grow strong and luxuriant. Parisian Sage removes dandruff with one application and cleanses the hair of dirt, dust and excessive oil.

ORGANIST STILL MISSING

WHITTIER, April 7.—No trace of Leonard Smith, the church organist, missing since Friday, has been found. Thirteen automobiles loaded with friends are searching the San Gabriel Valley, where his parents believe he is wandering, despite the note left as to intended suicide. His parents and friends deny the existence of any mysterious girl "Rita," with whom the published stories sought to connect his disappearance.

Out It Went.

"Good night, my sweet; farewell, my love; my soul goes out to thee! But time is speeding fast, my love, and I must quickly flee! 'Tis but a few short hours, my love, and you must think of me till we meet again tomorrow, love! My soul goes out to thee!"

Thus spoke a lover to his lass. Deep in her eyes gazed he. Now, one fond kiss, one fond embrace—how sweet it was to see!

Oh, horror! Then her pa appeared. "What means this, sir?" said he. Then, with an angry snarl, he roared, "My sole goes out to thee!"—London Mail.

Logic of Youth.

"Father," exclaimed John vigorously, "why don't Quakers take off their hats?"

"Because, my son, it is their belief that to remove their hats is a mark of respect that they think they should pay to no man."

"Well," remarked the boy after a moment's silence, "how do they manage when they have to have their hair cut?"—Youth's Companion.

Overstudy.

Books are pleasant, but if by being overstudious we impair our health and spoil our good humor, two of the best traits we have, let us give it over. I, for my part, am one of those who think that no fruit derived from them can recompense so great a loss.—Montaigne.

Lines on the Forehead.

The lines on the forehead are caused by perpetually raising the eyebrows, and no permanent help can be had until the habit is in some measure conquered. The lines should be massaged across the furrows and with a rotary movement outward toward the temples.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

RIVER DISTRICT LINES TO BE SURVEYED

McBride Instructed to Establish Channel for Disturbing River

This morning the Board of Supervisors instructed County Surveyor McBride to establish a prospective river channel for the Santa Ana from Yorba down to a point near West Orange, and to recommend to the board a tentative district to be assessed for the construction of protective dikes.

The matter was brought before the board by F. C. Krause, E. A. Day and others of Anaheim, who are interested in getting the river under control so that it will not be a menace to any of the nearby farms. The county is to pay for the preliminary engineering work.

Ask for Change

The board has received a petition from residents of Bay City asking the county to withdraw its petition for a permit to place a bridge at the curve of Anaheim Bay. The statement is made that the bridge will be dangerous to boats and a menace to navigation.

STILL ANOTHER
YORBA LINDA

Wants $200 Paid for Assessments Credited on Contract for Land

There are enough Yorba Linda actions filed at the courthouse to keep a judge and jury busy for weeks. Today another one was added to the list. In it Frank Milhous is the plaintiff and W. H. Frank, Jacob Stern, M. N. Newman, Peter Janss, the Stern Realty Company and the Yorba Linda Water Company are the defendants. The same defendants who are named in the six or eight other suits.

In the Milhous case, it is alleged that Milhous contracted to pay $2750 for ten acres of land. The Yorba Linda Water Company slapped on assessments to pay interest on the bonds that the Yorba Lindians claim were fraudulent. Those assessments amount to $200, and Milhous declares that the money he has paid for assessments should be credited to his account on the contract. With that $200 his payments

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT, BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Make it Thick, Glossy, Wavy, Luxuriant and Remove All Dandruff

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Dandierine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Dandierine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Dandierine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Dandierine from any drug-gist or toilet counter, and just try it.—Advertisement.

MONEY MISSING
HAMMOND ALSO

That is Charge Made by Walter Against Man He Trusted as a Friend

According to information received by Deputy District Attorney Koepsel, there are a number of people of Newport Beach who would like to get their hands on Charles H. Hammond. They say Hammond got some of their money and made tracks.

One of those with a grievance is F. M. Walter, who lives near Anaheim and who had a notion he was going to run a tamale stand at Newport Beach this summer. Walter got acquainted with Hammond, and trusted him. He delegated to Hammond the job of hiring a tamale stand and having a wagon built, and he gave him $50 with which to do the paying. Hammond took the $50, and it was soon after that that he made the tracks mentioned above. Walter has sworn to a complaint charging Hammond with embezzlement.

EL TORO DAY AT THE BEACH

Best Natured Crowd that Ever Was Had Loads of Fun Sunday

EL TORO, April 7.—Sunday was El Toro day at Laguna Beach.

That means that nearly everybody who lives in this place, was at Laguna Beach for a big community picnic. By actual count there were fifty-seven from here taking part in the annual affair, which by common consent is set for the first Sunday in April.

It was a fine day, though a little threatening at times. Twenty-five of the crowd went in bathing, and enjoyed every minute of it.

From Letter Carrier to Brooklyn Postmaster

William E. Kelly has stepped from the ranks of letter carriers to be the postmaster of one of the largest offices in the United States. President Wilson nominated him for postmaster in Brooklyn, and the Senate confirmed him on the same day. Mr. Kelly didn't work his way up. He took off his uniform to don citizen's clothes when he took charge of the Brooklyn postoffice.

But he had advanced in another line, which showed he had the kind of ability the president was looking for. For more than six years he has been president of the National Association of Letter Carriers, and last year his reelection was unanimous.

He started in the service in 1893. He was one of the first to join the National Association of Letter Carriers. He was chosen president of the Brooklyn branch of the association and held that place till 1907, when he was elected national president. Each year since he has been re-elected. The last convention was held in San Francisco, and then they made his reelection unanimous. The association has 31,400 members out of a total of 31,900 in the country. It is said to be one of the most compact and efficient of labor organizations.

Carl Mock created a lot of excitement for himself and others by getting in an over-dose of salt water while bathing, and he had to be helped ashore. Bert Hemmaway, who was afloat in the water at Laguna, demonstrated his swimming ability by bringing two inert men in from 150 yards off shore.

Dinner—that was some dinner! Thirty-two fried chickens had been brought along. They and fruit salad were the mainstays of as fine a picnic feed as a crowd of thoroughly good-natured people ever sat down to.

Those who attended the big doings were: John English and family, Wm. English and family, Eugene Ahern and family, Fred Rodger and family, Levi Gockley and family, Bert Hemmaway and family, Harry Froehlich and wife, Wm. Kelly and wife, Harvey Bennett and wife, Ike Squires and wife of Santa Ana, Mrs. Trapp, Mrs. Josephine Prothero, Misses Louise Grouard, Edna Nichols, Kate Kelly, Edith Waterman, Laura Sage, Adella McDonald, Jessie Price; Jennie McDonald, Anna Walker, Beth Merizold, Florence Schultz, Converse Nau and Mabel Rehl of Santa Ana; Misses Helen Lamphere and Ruth Leng of Los Angeles; Carl Mock, Claude Sleeper, Magnus Tait of Los Angeles; Carl Waterman, Arthur Ahern, Tom Ahern, Geo. MacFarlane of Sydney, N. S. W.; Ray Hampy of Fullerton, Dick Ahern of Fullerton, Ralph Rumbold, Roy Rumbold, Homer Edwards.

HOMES OF THE SYRIANS.

Where It Is Little Trouble to "Take Up Thy Bed and Walk."

On the right as you enter the house stands a small structure of sun dried brick, called mekhdash. It is about five feet high, six feet long and a foot deep. On the inner side it is divided into openings of different sizes and serves the cosmopolitan purpose of a china closet, kettie cupboard, a place for father's Turkish pipe (nargile) and tobacco and whatever other little articles it may be convenient for the moment to thrust into it.

The mekhdash (fireplace) is at the forward end of this structure. It is such a fireplace as you would build at a picnic—square, open at the top for the kettle to set in and at one side to admit the fuel. It is built of clay mixed with straw and fine quartz. There is no chimney. The smoke floats in the house with the sufferance of public opinion. The ceiling is black and shining, as if it had been varnished. The earthen floor is painted frequently with red mud and rubbed with a smooth stone until it shines. It is furnished with straw mats, cushions and in the winter season soft and fluffy sheepskins.

There are no chairs, no bedsteads. The family sit and sleep on the floor. The bed consists of a thick cushion for a mattress, stuffed with wool or cotton, a pillow of the same material and a quilt for a cover. So when Jesus said to the man he had healed, "Arise, take up thy bed and walk," the man did not have very much to carry. In the daytime the beds are either rolled up, each one, in a heap and left on the floor next to the wall or put in a recess in the wall, constructed for the purpose.—Atlantic Monthly.

Large Business Lots, 50x150 Feet, for $400 Up.

HARBOR CITY is two miles from San Pedro and Los Angeles Harbor. HARBOR CITY is only two miles from Torrance, where there is now over a thousand people employed by big manufacturing companies and is two miles further from water than HARBOR CITY. HARBOR CITY is only two miles from Wilmington. Look, these three towns are on three sides of HARBOR CITY. They must grow towards HARBOR CITY. HARBOR CITY has everything that a city needs, and a prettier view and location can't be seen. HARBOR CITY is two miles from a good oil well which flows 500 barrels a day. Let me tell you about HARBOR CITY. Terms 10 per cent down and $10 a month.

There are new about 3000 vessels stopping at San Pedro, Wilmington and Los Angeles Harbors. What will it be when the Panama Canal is opened up? That means they will have to dredge Bixby Slough clear up to HARBOR CITY. Then your dollars would be worth a thousand for each hundred you invest now. Don't let this chance slip by—the chance of your life time. I run no excursions to HARBOR CITY. It will cost only $1.00 round trip to HARBOR CITY and return to Santa Ana. People will not hold back for the sake of a dollar. Some of you may say that other real estate firms will give you a free trip. Please bear this in mind: Those real estate firms that run a free excursion add from $25 to $100 a lot to their prices of property, in order to pay the cost of about $150 or more for two cars. With 100 people, more or less, not more than 5 or 10 of them buy. The answer is that the few who do buy have to pay that $25 or $100 extra per lot to pay for all the other free rides.

Why not pay only $1.00 and go with me for a nice pleasant ride and see HARBOR CITY, where you can get property just as good, if not better, with a prettier home spot and save that $25 or $100 a lot?

If HARBOR CITY is not as I represented it to be I will return your dollar, and if you buy I will return it anyway.

If you are interested, you may send me your address and I will call and tell you about HARBOR CITY. Please show this to YOUR friends and have them show it to THEIR friends.

NEW FACTORY ABOUT READY

Huntington Beach Oilcloth and Linoleum Plant to Start
Work About June 1

Huntington Beach News: To realize fully what is being done in the building line in Huntington Beach it is necessary for one to go out and see for one's self what progress is being made at the big plant of the Pacific Oilcloth and Linoleum Company, a short distance south of the Holly sugar factory.

First Unit About Completed
The company will in the near future have a group of buildings covering 15 acres of ground; the first unit, now nearing completion, is the one in which oilcloth only will be manufactured, and stands on a fine six-acre site, donated by the Huntington Beach Company.

This building is a rectangular brick, 36x326 feet, and is now almost completed, and about forty men are employed in the construction work.

The oil boiling machinery has been installed and the big boiler now rests in its permanent position, and other machinery is arriving and being placed about the new structure.

Capacity 1450 Rolls Per Day

Company officials state that the capacity of the factory when completed according to present plans will be 1450 rolls of oilcloth per day; each roll will contain 12 yards of cloth, 1 1/4 yards in width; and the building is so arranged that by the installation of additional machinery the output of the plant can be doubled at any time the demand for the product warrants the additional expenditure.

Building is Absolutely Fireproof
This factory building is not a so-called fireproof one, but is absolutely so, not a piece of wood of any description being used in or about it.

Only One West of St. Louis

At the present time the manufacture of oilcloth is confined almost entirely to the states of New York and New Jersey, the only exception being one factory in St. Louis. Therefore Huntington Beach will have the distinction of having the only factory of this kind in the Union west of the city of St. Louis.

Many Inquiries About the Product

Secretary Nelson has in his possession inquiries from all over the country for samples and prices of the company's product. Among these letters are the names of some of the big exporting firms of New York and Chicago, one being from John V. Far-

MACHINE GUN TRAINED ON TORREON BY THE REBEL ARMY

General Villa has used some modern ammunition and arms in his attack on Torreon, and the machine gun shown here is one of those he imported to Mexico after President

Wilson raised the embargo on the shipment of arms there. From the hills surrounding the town he has trained his guns on the city and has done much damage. Daily it has been reported that the town was taken by him. The capture of Torreon was a victory of great importance to the rebels. This photograph was taken by the Mutual Film Company.

well & Co., of the Illinois metropolis.

A Modern Factory Plant

It is claimed by company officials that this plant will be the most modern one in the country, and there is every reason to believe the statement is correct, as it is the latest one to be erected and there is no doubt but what it is as modern as money and human ingenuity can construct today.

Ready to Operate June 1

At the present rate of progress the finished product will be ready for the market by June 1.

All that is required for the success of any enterprise is integrity, money and expert knowledge. The local men who are backing this project have the integrity and money, and Gustav Frenkel, the young German, who is general manager of the company, has the expert knowledge; therefore the company is properly equipped for a successful career.

Local Men Are Officials

The officials of the Pacific Oilcloth & Linoleum Company are local men of high standing in the community. T. B. Talbert, of the well known real estate firm of T. B. Talbert & Company, and chairman of the Board of County Supervisors, is president; W. F. Newland, president of the Huntington Beach bank and prosperous rancher, is vice president; R. E. Graves, cashier of the local banks and city treasurer, is treasurer; J. E. Nelson of Santa Ana is secretary.

A Great Day for Kids for Circus is in Town

You're right. Only one thing in the world could cause the scene. Place? Any old spot along the downtown streets around 10:30 o'clock this morning. Reason? A simple one, for at that hour came the parade of the Sells-Floto Circus and Buffalo Bill (himself) which is in the city for two performances, one this afternoon at 2:15 and the other tonight at 8.

But about the parade—for maybe you did not happen to be one of those who crowded the sidewalks to look at it. Maybe you are therefore in need of descriptive. The parade was worth them. Two miles long was the promise and two miles long was the fulfillment—or at least so near that mark that no one could tell the difference. And out of the ordinary—for never an animal cage was closed, never a thing was hidden; even Buffalo Bill, famous scout that he is, led the long spectacle, just as an honor to this city.

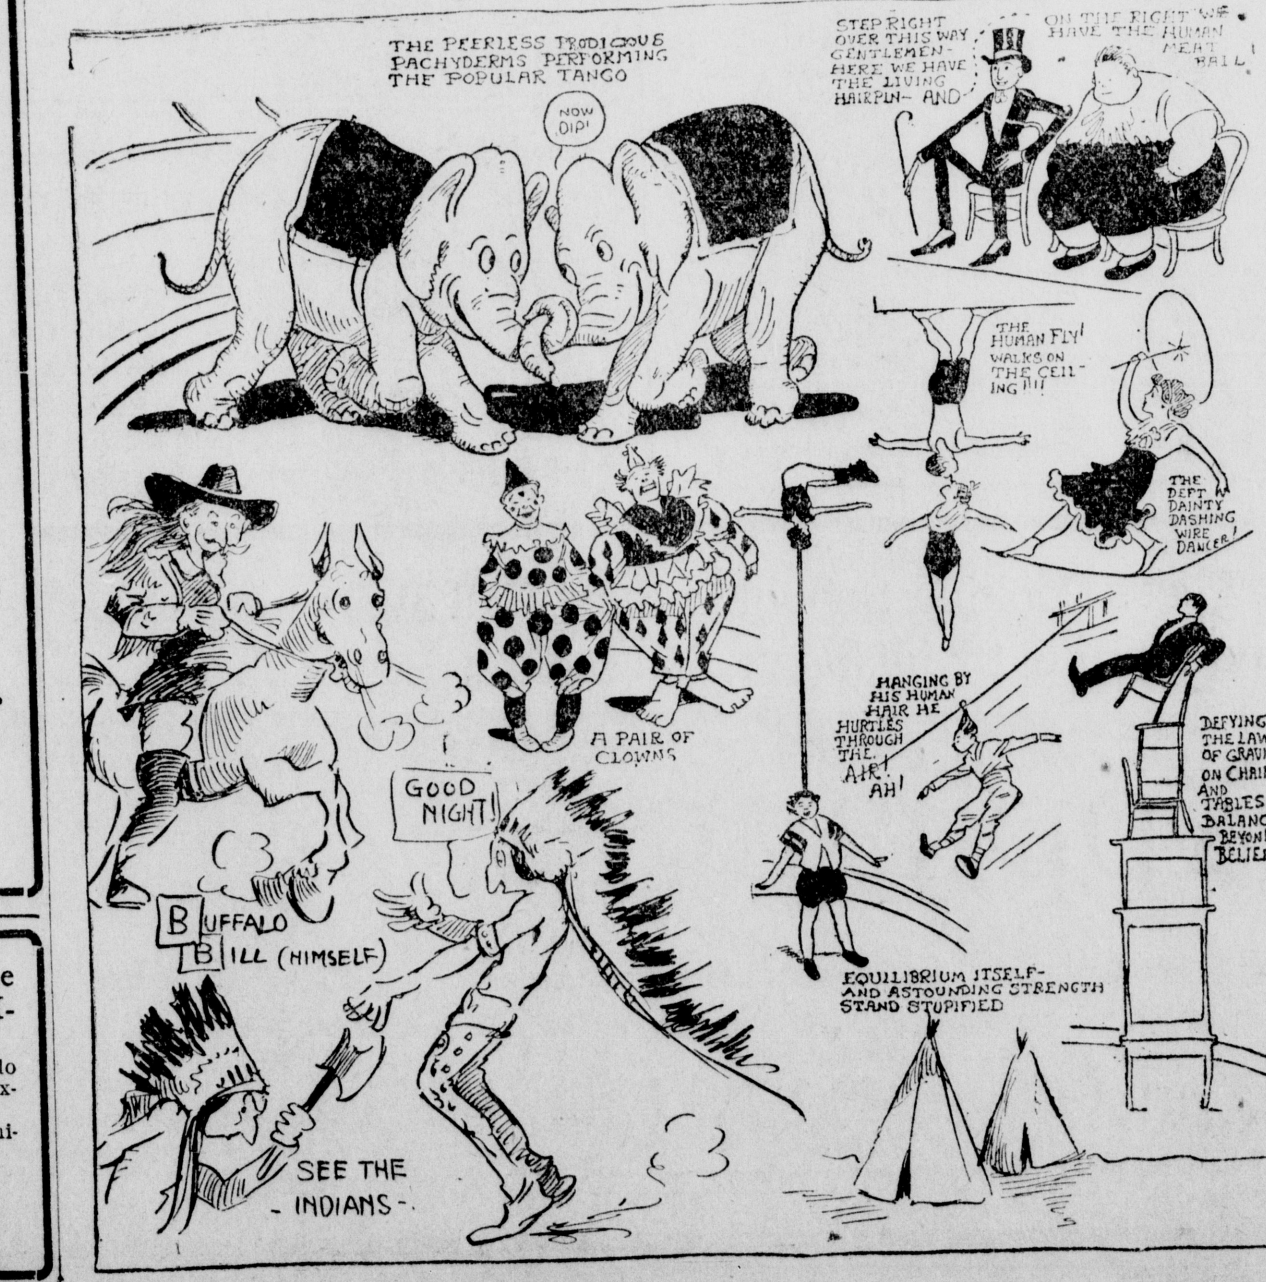

And variety in plenty was present in the parade of the Sells-Floto Circus and Buffalo Bill (himself) this morning. Wild horses and sleek, well groomed ones, elephants and monkeys, big elephants and little ones, old camels and young ones—pretty equestriennes and painted Indians, horseback riders in tight and brimmed hats, lions and baby leopards, clowns and serious acrobats, clown bands and concert bands—everything was there in fullsome comparison, and everything was worth looking at.

And there was one thing which the Sells-Floto parade evidently desired to impress upon everyone—and rightly. Even though the circus be larger this year than it has ever been before (and the parade showed that better than any words of a press agent), even though out there at the circus lot, the great, wide spreading canvases covered eleven acres of ground, even though Buffalo Bill, with his retinue of cowboys, ranch girls, Indians, riders and ropers, form an addition to the circus this year; even though there are new features by the score, every wagon bore the emblazoned announcement that the price still remains as low as ever—twenty-five cents.

Features are thick with the circus. In the performance, the management promises, there will be about everything that ever was offered in any kind of tented aggregation. And there will be other things which never have been seen before. Principal among these is to be the spectacle offered by Buffalo Bill, his cowboys, his riders, his ropers and his Indians. "Warrath" it is called, and it depicts the progress of civilization from the time of our frontier to the present day.

And so, if you missed the parade this morning—well, there will be plenty more to look at out at the circus grounds on Fruit street, where the brilliantly painted wagons again bare forth the announcement: "The price? Just twenty-five cents."

Spoke on Varied Menus and Served Fine Lunch—Ladies
Take Notice and Ask Many Questions

Special Cake Lessons Will Be Given After the Regular Lesson Wednesday Afternoon

A goodly number of Santa Ana women crowded the Elks Hall this afternoon to hear Miss Peet's second lecture and to see her cook. She provided a fine luncheon, the preparation of which was exceedingly interesting, while consuming it proved even more so.

SHOWED HOW TO VARY MENUS

Miss Peet believes in varied menus, and gave an illuminating talk upon this topic this afternoon, which will lift many a housekeeper out of the rut of serving the same foods over and over three times a day, seven days in the week. Sometimes, according to Miss Peet, this is done because the man of the house expresses a preference for certain things, and the housewife makes the mistake of giving him these until he and all the family are tired of them. Again it is often done with a view to economy, but Miss Peet showed very clearly how varied menus can be planned, and prepared without any increase in the grocery bill. In fact Miss Peet says it can be done, and grocery bills reduced, and she is going to demonstrate just this truth while she is in Santa Ana. Miss Peet used some very striking illustrations to show the effect of an unvaried diet on individuals as well as on the nations. It is evident she has studied the matter very thoroughly, and handles this topic most entertainingly.

MADE ECONOMICAL CAKE

When Miss Peet announced her intention of making better cakes without butter than can be made with butter, most of her audience was highly skeptical. She said it is no wonder that with butter so high as it is, cake baking has almost gone out of fashion, but she means to show how to make economical cakes in which not a particle of butter is used. Today she made a lemon coconut cake, and served it to her audience with a very dainty dessert, called walnut soufflé, and every one said they had never tasted a richer, finer cake.

Miss Peet fried the Saratoga Chips after the same smokeless method used in frying doughnuts yesterday. She says one of the very best messages she has for Santa Ana women is that of the smokeless kitchen. Using the same fat in which she fried the chips, Miss Peet made pastry strips so light they would melt in your mouth.

HELD AFTER MEETING

Miss Peet's audience is not slow to meet her request in regard to asking questions. So many housekeepers have problems they want Miss Peet to solve that they ask questions long after the hour for closing the session has arrived. As soon as the lecture-demonstrations are over great numbers of women flock about Miss Peet's table, and fire questions at her by the dozen. There are not too many and none too hard for Miss Peet's wide knowledge and varied experience. She says that in her travels in this country and abroad, she has come in contact with many fine housekeepers and famous cooks and she brings all of the information she has gleaned from them, to bear upon the problems of her cooking school audience. She offers too, to be at the Elks Hall in the mornings, to meet any who care to come to her at that time. Miss Peet announced that she had a few special recipes which are not in the leaflet she is giving away, nor will they be found among those published in the Register. She will read out two of these each day, to those who are in the hall before two-thirty.

co, four tablespoonfuls water.
Sift the flour and salt and cut the Crisco into the flour with two knives until it is finely divided. Then add the water sparingly, mixing it with a knife through the dry materials.
Form into a dough, roll out on a floured board, about one-quarter inch thick. Use a light motion in hand-be of a consistency such that when scraped out with a spoon it rounds up egg-shaped.

sugar, one cupful milk, three tablespoonfuls flour, two tablespoonfuls
Crisco, three tablespoonfuls water,

From the Los Angeles Financial News

Government Owned Railroads

"It would cost on an average over $33 to send a ton of freight from New York to Chicago, if the railroads of the United States enjoyed the average freight rate of the Panama Railroad, Uncle Sam's one and only Government owned and operated road, and the ultimate consumer would have less chance than he has now of getting out of the 'ultimate class,' says the Wall Street Journal. Continuing, that paper says:

"The Federal Government expects to build a railroad in Alaska to develop the resources of that wonderful cold storage plant. But if freight rates prevailing on the railroad across the Isthmus of Panama are any criterion of what the Government rates in Alaska are to be, consumers who use Alaskan coal will have to guard their bins like sub-treasury vaults. It seems improbable, but in any event the trend of rates, with their necessary bearing upon the success of operation, should be watched with interest.

"Compared with a ton mile rate of approximately three-quarters of a cent for the systems of the United States, the Panama road had a rate of 3.48 cents in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1913. With an average freight haul shorter than the railroads of the United States, the Panama road performs much the same terminal service. Allowance must be made for this technical disadvantage. To equalize the difference, a cent may be added to the average rate of the United States roads for terminal charges, making a putative ton mile rate 1.76 cents, instead of the actual 7.6 mills. Actually, of course, the terminal charge is included in the rate of 7.6 mills.

"With the penny added, the Government road has an advantage of 1.72 cents in its rate of nearly 100 per cent. If the United States roads had had that difference the cost to shippers would have been $2,000,000,000 more last year than it was and the freight gross revenues of the railroads of the country would have been $4,000,000,000 instead of $2,000,000,000.

"Comparisons of the operations of the major railroads of the United States with those of the Panama Railroad must not be taken too literally, nor must hard and fast conclusions be drawn therefrom, but there is some illumination in the compared results for the year ended June 30, 1913:

Year June 30, 1913—	United States Railroads	Panama Railroad
Operated mileage .....	221,749	62

* Decrease. † Estimated.

"Another reflection of the Panama road's higher rate is seen in the gross earnings per mile, which are over five times as high as the privately owned roads, although the Government road's tonnage density is only a little above that of the United States roads. The Panama road, operating only 62 miles of road straight across the Isthmus, does not have to wrestle with the complexities of operation that face the big systems of this country. The shortness of the Government line must be considered when making deductions from the earnings comparisons.

"On total maintenance the Panama line spent 18.9 per cent of gross earnings as compared with 29.7 per cent for the railroads of the United States. With its high rate, the Government road does not have to perform the same relative amount of service as the roads of this country to obtain the same revenue. In short, quantity of service, with its proportionate demands upon plant, is a determining factor in the lower maintenance charge of the Panama road as compared with those of the other railroads. Lower the freight rates of the Panama road and the ratio of upkeep charges would naturally rise.

"The transportation ratio, representing to a large degree the cost of movement, of the Panama road is lower than that of the systems of the United States. The question of wages may enter into this difference. But the amount of service performed for a given price is undoubtedly a factor. The railroads of the United States are called upon to do more, must do relatively more to make profits with their lower rate. There are some big roads, notably in the west, whose transportation ratio is lower than that of the Panama road.

"There are no taxes for the Panama road to pay and this is reflected in the net operating income. Whereas the net operating revenue and the net operating income of the Panama road per mile are the same, for the United States roads net operating income per mile is $555 less than net operating revenue per mile. The difference is taxes.

"A smaller proportion of maintenance charges to gross earnings, and the absence of taxes, together with the lower transportation ratio enabled the Panama road to save over 39 per cent of its gross revenues per mile for net operating income compared with 26.7 per cent for the United States roads. "No ironclad argument relative to government ownership can be drawn from the comparative figures, but it would be enlightening to see what the Panama road would do with competition, Commission regulation and lower rates. It is a very short road, but a large part of its freight traffic is through business which makes for simpler and easier operation in itself."

California's Largest Taxpayer

S. V. Harkness, a multi-millionaire of Pasadena, and who assisted John D. Rockefeller in organizing the Standard Oil Company, is said to be the largest individual taxpayer west of Chicago. His fortune is said to exceed $30,000,000, while his income for 1913 is likewise stated to be $1,500,000. His income tax exceeded $60,000.

May Join Federal Reserve Banks

To benefit farmers, the Rural Credit Commission has recommended to Congress that banks with a capitalization as low as $2000 be allowed to become members of the new Federal Reserve system. The commission contends that the present limit of $2500 prevents the benefits of the system being extended in a large degree to the farmers.

Record for Electric Train

A three-car train of the Oakland, Antioch and Eastern, carrying 50 passengers, established a record for passenger trains between Sacramento, Oakland and San Francisco last Sunday by making the run to Oakland in two hours and eighteen minutes and to San Francisco in two hours and fifty-five minutes.

Billions in Public Utilities

Few persons have any idea of the magnitude of the electric light and transportation business nor of the enormous amount of capital invested in these public utilities. Some facts and figures pertaining to these utilities are obtained from a lecture delivered by Francis T. Homer under the auspices of The Financial Forum of New York. Mr. Homer said in part:

"Today there are over $4,000,000,000 invested in those ventures. I will tell you that during 1913 over a million dollars a day, including Sunday, was put into those ventures, and then at the end of the year, by the way of a Christmas gift, the investors had to provide about $65,000,000 of additional money. That in 1912, when money was easier to get, and the growth of the business was not hampered by the limitations of the security market, instead of there being invested in this business in the neighborhood of $453,000,000, as there was in 1913, the showing for 1912 was $618,100,000—so you are dealing with a tremendous financial, economic and commercial problem. At the preliminary hearing which was held at Washington before the Interstate Commerce Commission, on the petition of the railroads for a 5 per cent increase in freight rates, Mr. Willard, the president of the B. & O. system, said that since 1910 the railroads had expended $600,000,000; that they had built 30,000 additional miles of track and sidings, and that their gross revenues had increased but that their net revenues had fallen off. Against that record of $600,000,000 invested by the railroads in three years, we set up the record of the public utilities corporations of this country, which have invested in the one year $618,000,000, and in an adverse year, like last year, $453,000,000, or a total of $1,071,000,000 in the two years. The figures for 1911 are not available, but as that was a good financial year, it is safe to assume that the investment that year was in the neighborhood of $500,000,000 to $600,000,000, and today for every dollar that is going into railroads, there are two and a half dollars going into public utilities.

"Since 1902, and stopping with the termination of 1911, to which the last data I have is brought up, the gross earnings of the gas and electric light power companies increased 110 per cent. The net earnings kept pace, and increased 100 per cent. The electric railways for the same period of ten years, showed an increase in gross of 75 per cent. They showed an increase in net of 60 per cent. The steam railroads for the ten-year period showed a growth in gross of 60 per cent and a growth in net of only 40 per cent, whilst industrial showed, for the ten-year period, a growth of only 15 per cent, with a decrease in the net earnings applicable to dividends, of 10 per cent. Consequently, in a ten-year period in which we have added millions to our populations, when industrial growth should at least keep step with the increased demands incident to an enlarged population, its growth was only one of 15 per cent, and it had to manufacture and produce on such a basis that it represented a loss of 10 per cent.

"I want you to realize that these tremendous results in growth, both gross and net, in public utilities companies, have been accomplished under circumstances of which you can find no parallel in any other line of human activity. In the twelve years since 1902, the efficiency of the electric lighting, through the improvements in the lamps and the availability of electric energy, has increased almost 500 per cent. Meantime, the average price charged for electrical energy has decreased approximately 60 per cent. Consequently, the efficiency of public utilities—I cite electric light, but could give you the same illustrations as to gas, because you know what the Welsbach burner and the new gas arc has done—has been increased, and the price has been steadily on the decline.

"There is about the public utility business almost a romance. Who ever heard of the Great White Way of New York, with the illuminations of Broadway, until electric light made it possible? What gas and electric light have done for the human race is more than medical science has done, because in a hundred years, medical science has succeeded in prolonging the average life of the individual about two years and a half. In less than fifty years, gas and electric light combined, have lengthened the life of every man, because only his working hours are the life that counts with him—the rest is oblivion. They have prolonged human life on an average of over 75 per cent. Not only have they done it by making his working hours of usefulness and of enjoyment greater, but by means of the rapidity of transporting him, they have saved him time which would otherwise be wasted, so far as the enjoyment or the usefulness of life is concerned."

Long Beach Bonds Sold

The $200,000 water bond issue of Long Beach has been purchased by E. H. Rollins & Sons Company of New York at par plus accrued interest and a premium of $695.

General Bond News

Three special elections will be held in Santa Monica within the next ninety days. The first, in about sixty days, will submit the question of transferring to the State Railroad Commission the power to fix public utility rates. Within a succeeding day or two the voters will be asked to approve a bond issue of $200,000 for fire mains and fire engines, and following close upon that will be asked to vote $150,000 for a municipal auditorium.

The Finance Committee of the Los Angeles City Council has consented to a modification of the contract with E. H. Rollins & Sons for the sale of the last issue of harbor bonds, by which the firm will be permitted to take the bonds in the form of selected maturities rather than average maturities. For this privilege Rollins & Sons will put up a certified check for $10,000 to guarantee the carrying out of the entire contract.

San Diego City Council has decided to submit to the voters of that city on May 5 a proposition to bond the city for $1,500,000 to purchase the Morena dam and watershed. This is the first move toward accelerating the completion of the San Diego and Arizona Railway, the dam being owned by John D. Spreckels. At the same election another proposition to vote $400,000 harbor improvement bonds will be submitted.

Bids have been invited by the Board of Supervisors of Maricopa County, Arizona, for the sale on April 20 of $150,000 of the bonds of the Mesa Union High School district. The bonds bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent and a novelty of the sale is that unconditional bids are asked for, the board furnishing to bidder in advance a transcript of the approval of the issue by Dillon, Thompson & Clay, well-known bond attorneys.

E. H. Rollins & Sons, the successful bidders for the $2,240,000 Los Angeles harbor bonds remaining unsold, have taken the first allotment of the bonds, amounting to $350,000, under the contract and paid the money into the city treasury. The firm has until December, 1915, in which to complete its contract.

The Santa Monica Water Company has asked permission of the State Railroad Commission to issue $500,000 of 5 per cent first mortgage bonds under a trust deed to the Citizens' Trust and Savings Bank of Los Angeles to refund outstanding obligations and carry out improvements.

GAS MUCH OF GAS, ACTION IS DEFERRED

Trustees Consider Advisability of Testing Plant for Natural Product--To Pave South Sycamore

Gas, natural, manufactured and adulterated--gas bills, self-rising--gas company roasted and gas company fricasseed--gas tests in the stew. Last night's meeting of the City Trustees had a lot to do with gas and gaseous affairs, and the end is not yet.

Trustee McPhee proposed an ordinance providing for tests of gas served the people of Santa Ana. He said the gas expert he talked to said the city ought to have a testing plant. Trustees Alderman and Grubb said the gas expert they interviewed said that with natural gas a testing system was not necessary.

The spicy, gas-cooked roasts of the evening were not entirely disposed of, but were put over until another meeting, to be served up warmed over. A committee is to further investigate the advisability of establishing a gas testing plant in Santa Ana, a plant that McPhee declared would cost $500 or $600.

Coming About 20th The gas discussion started when Local Manager Champion of the Southern Counties Gas Company stated that natural gas would reach Santa Ana about April 29. McPhee will be read about that time. Grubb moved that the seventy-five cent rate commence with the meter-reading. The city attorney said that no motion was necessary as when natural gas is necessary the rate must be seventy-five cents, and that rate cannot be established until then. Grubb's motion was withdrawn.

Has Ordinance

McPhee said that at his instance an ordinance had been prepared aimed to provide a method by which Santa Ana will have power to have its gas tested. He said that at the last meeting he had suggested that quality and pressure should be tested, and that as a result of that "an inspired article, purporting to be an interview with Manager Champion," appeared in a local paper (the Blade), rather ridiculing McPhee for suggesting the installation of an apparatus that Champion said in the interview would cost $2,000.

Alderman and Grubb were a committee appointed to look up the gas situation. They said they had interviewed an expert in Los Angeles. He said apparatus for testing gas would be costly. Natural gas is not like manufactured gas. It varies hardly at all in quality. Therefore they did not think a testing laboratory was necessary.

"When a consumer comes to us today with a complaint, we can do absolutely nothing for him," said McPhee. McPhee then read the article that he said was evidently inspired, and commented freely upon it, saying that he believed that the gas official was trying to mislead the board. City Attorney Heathman said he had been misled. One statement was that natural gas cannot be adulterated. McPhee then called upon Mr. Cline, gas inspector of Long Beach, to answer the question as to whether or not natural gas can be adulterated.

Cline talked for twelve or fifteen minutes, answering questions concerning gas.

Can Mix It

"Natural gas," said he, "can be mixed with air or manufactured gas." "In Los Angeles and Long Beach right now forty-five per cent of the gas in the mains is manufactured gas. In the East where the natural gas supply is weakening, there is great complaint because some gas companies force air into the mains with the gas. As to the need of inspection, that rests entirely upon the disposition of the company serving the gas. When gasoline is extracted from the gas under pressure the quality of the gas is weakened."

Cline said $2,000 is not necessary to establish a gas testing laboratory, that $500 or $600 would supply all the apparatus needed to test gas for impurities, heat value and meters. He did not know about pressure here, as he did not know how or where governors are installed.

"At Long Beach, what was the difference in your gas heat units at the time you installed your tests and now?" asked McPhee.

"Prior to our tests, we had poor quality gas. We got not over 500 heat units. Now we get not less than 600, a saving of 16 2/3 per cent." R. L. Bisby said Long Beach's gas bill was $200,000 a year, and on heat units the city saved $33,000 a year for its consumers.

Grubb: "Is there any occasion for a company serving natural gas only to force air into the mains? If there is no reason why they should do that where they have ample supply of natural gas, I do not see that this ordinance is necessary. Do you not find many complaints unreasonable?"

Sees No Occasion

Cline said that he does not think there is any occasion for a company here to force air into natural gas mains. Neither did he think air would be forced into the container of manufactured gas. Where trouble would occur in manufactured gas is in the generation, for there most certainly poor gas can be made by adjusting the generator, the gas company saving money on some elements necessary to make good gas. He said he found many complaints to be unreasonable and prejudicial.

The proposed ordinance was then read by Clerk Burke. It provides for 600 heat units, and stipulations as to amounts of ammonia and sulphur.

Grubb: "The expert that Mr. Alderman and I saw said such an ordinance is not necessary. I'd like to know who is right on this matter. Like lawyers, gas experts evidently disagree."

McPhee: "I was the instigator of this ordinance. I have in my pocket receipts bills where gas bills have gone up from 100 to 500 per cent in periods of from two to five months. That might have been accident, but it looks like carelessness on the part of the gas company. With such things as that happening, we need this ordinance. Long Beach saved $33,000 a year by installing a $600 plant."

Grubb: "This proposed ordinance has certain stipulations as to contents. We are soon to have natural gas. Whether or not this ordinance will allow us to use that natural gas, I don't know. We are framing an ordinance for something we don't know." The ordinance was referred to the city attorney and to Grubb, Alderman and McPhee. Grubb said he thought he ought to decline to act, since if the work of the old committee was wrong he had best quit. Ey insisted that he stay on the committee.

Judicial Comparisons

It looked as though the gas question was laid to rest for the evening, when Justice of the Peace Cox arose. He was prepared with statistics to prove that there was something wrong with the gas bills. With a family of five and three meals a day his bills used to be from $1.50 to $2 a month. Now with a family of two and two meals a day, his bill for last month was $3.50. He had figures from other families where cooking, baking and washing were done, in a family of three, eighty cents to $1.20, another $2.20, while Cox had a bill of $3.50 for a family of two.

Prof. Nord of the high school was called on. He said that if gasoline is extracted from the gas, gas quality would be lowered, and it would be well to test the gas.

"Has the gas company anything to say?" asked Ey.

"We are getting a good deal of information," said Champion. And there the gas meter ceased registering for the evening.

Pave Sycamore

W. L. Duggan again presented a petition for paving Sycamore street from Third to Cubbon, saving 423 feet of frontage additional had been signed, making eighty-eight per cent of the frontage on the petition. Steele Finley said he had communicated with every person on the street, except two, and made the proposition clear. He wanted to pave in front of all property signed up and not pave in front of that not signed, allowing it to be paved by the Vrooman Act. He argued that the twelve per cent not signed should not make the rest pay fifteen or twenty per cent extra for their paving.

Alderman urged that they extend the paving from the north side of Cubbon to the south side of the intersection for the benefit of the school children who use the crossing.

Grubb said that if Contractor Crandall will sign an agreement to allow those who have not signed to sign up at the price, 11.5 cents per square foot, before concrete is laid, and to take certain mortgage and 9-year-payment arrangements where the property owners cannot readily pay, he would be satisfied. Finley said Crandall would sign such an agreement.

Grubb then moved to allow Crandall to go on the street and do the paving by private contract.

No Paving Money

In the discussion as to extending the paving across the intersection of Cubbon and Sycamore, Duggan was urged to try to get the school board to pay for half of it, a quarter of it, donate something to it. Duggan replied that the schools have no money, that the rate allowed by law does not provide anything beyond running expenses, that the schools have not enough money on hand to paint some of the buildings that need painting. While the number of pupils increase fifteen to twenty per cent yearly, the assessment, on which money is raised, has increased only three or four per cent.

The motion of Grubb was carried, allowing the paving to stop at the north side of Cubbon.

The chairman of the board was authorized to sign the contract for paving in front of the city jail.

Finley stated that eighty-nine per cent of the property owners on East Pine street between Main and Hickory had signed a Crandall contract for paving, and that the contract is now on its way to Iowa for another signature.

With the County

Engineer Finley said that the county proposes to pave only a ten-foot strip on South Main along the city limits line, which is in the center of the street there, and expects the city to pave the other ten feet. It was stated that J. R. Paine owns most of the frontage, and Grubb, Alderman and Finley were appointed a committee to see Paine and take up plans for getting the city's ten-foot strip paved with the same pavement as that used by the county.

Paving East Second

Stating that East Second street from Spurgeon to Garfield had signed up for paving, a representative of M. L. Huberman, street paver, asked permission to begin tearing up the street. He said Huberman is taking up with the railroad the matter of its paving. The railroad wants to use five inches of asphalt, and no concrete, and on Alderman's motion the permission was granted. Permission to tear up the street was given Huberman.

Storm Damage

Mrs. Bradley of Broadway stated that her house had been badly damaged by storm water running off of the street at a low spot. The house has settled and the cellar is useless. Grubb said that during the storm water stood about a foot deep over Mrs. Bradley's place. The city engineer has planned to prevent a repetition of the occurrence. Grubb and Alderman were appointed a committee to report.

A map of Heninger's Third Addition was presented. Heninger said the streets had been graded, walks in many trees planted. Action on the map was deferred one week. Greenleaf, Finley and Alderman to look it over.

The Auto Specialty Co. asked for a permit to put an electric sign at 416 North Sycamore street. The matter was referred to the building inspector and electrician with power to act.

Licenses Revoked

On McPhee's motion the lodging-house licenses of Alex. Alec were revoked. Alec being in jail for making unlawful use of the places.

The applications of T. W. Beebe and Wisdom & Company for permits to install gasoline pumps on the sidewalk were denied on Grubb's motion, who saw no more reason for serving gasoline on the street than for serving molasses or buttermilk.

Stephen Ross reported as inspector that Huberman's paving on Broadway from Third to Camille was well done.

Grubb reported that as to repairing bad places in the pavement of French and Spurgeon between Fifth and Washington, when some crushed rock is received and some heavy oil experiments would be made in repair work.

Orders Repairing

Grubb said that none of the pavement torn up and replaced by the Pacific phone company was as good as it was in the first place. English said that the matter of doing the work over again was in the hands of the Los Angeles phone officials. The trustees passed a motion to notify the companies that have made bad jobs of repairing broken pavement to do the work over at once. Alderman suggested doing the work and charging the cost to the companies. Ey said that some patches of pavement now being made are worthless as the patches were not guarded and the asphalt was raised by passing teams.

Alderman and S. H. Finley were continued as committee to persuade the P. E. to build its line east on East Fourth to the city limits. Finley said that Hill of the P. E. says the road will not accept the franchise offered by the city because of several conditions. One was giving transfers from the interurban line. The company will be satisfied with a franchise like the one it now has.
